

Taken in by Hollywood : Onetime friend tells jury of trying to 'rescue' fugitive murder suspect

May 20, 2009 -

A onetime friend of Jesse James Hollywood on Tuesday told a Santa Barbara jury about being duped into taking him on a 1,100-mile road trip from Colorado to Calabasas, a journey that prosecutors say was part of Mr. Hollywood's plan to elude authorities in the days after the kidnapping and shooting death of 15-year-old Nicholas Markowitz. On day three of the capital murder trial, Chas Morgan Saulsbury testified that he and Mr. Hollywood became close friends in 1994, when they were 16-year-olds in Colorado Springs, about an hour south of Denver. The Hollywood family moved back to California a short time later, and the two parted ways. That was until August 2000, when, Mr. Saulsbury said, he went to his mother's home one day and found Mr. Hollywood standing in the doorway, dripping sweat after apparently walking 10 miles or so to get there.
